

These photos were taken near the intersection of N.E. Cookingham drive and N. Stark Ave. in Liberty, Missouri. The photos were taken in the summer of 1989. The approximate location is marked with an "X" on the map:

(Google map accessed June, 2012)

The plants shown here are likely descendants of the hemp plants grown for the "Hemp for Victory Campaign" in World War II.

The following photos were taken just to the northwest of the aforementioned location near the intersection of Stark Ave and the Fishing River:

(Google map accessed June, 2012)

A visit to the sites in 2011 revealed that the hemp plants were no longer growing there, and much of the land area of the sites had been developed into housing.